Income Tax Slash Given House Okay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The house passed today the GOP-backed $6,500,000,000 tax-cutting bill. The vote was 297 for and 120 against, 19 more than required to override a presidential veto.

It cuts everybody's income taxes and drops 7,400,000 low-pay people from the tax rolls. But the house vote is just the start. The bill now goes to the senate which may make a lot of changes.

Whatever congress finally agrees on will then go to President Truman. He can veto it if he thinks the cuts are too big. A veto is considered certain for a $6,500,000,000 cut.

Before its final vote, the house turned down a Democratic-backed substitute to cut the tax bill of individuals by $4,000,000,000 but up corporation taxes by $2,200,000,000.

Congress can make a bill law over the President's veto if two-thirds of the senators and house members vote for it. There aren't enough Republicans in congress to pass a bill over a veto by themselves.

Bill Explained

Here in detail is what the Republican-Knutson bill would do:

1. Raise individual exemptions by $100, from $500 to $600.

2. Apply to all states the community property principle whereby husbands and wives may divide the family income equally for tax reporting purposes, thereby holding the income in lower tax brackets.

3. Provide over $3,000,000,000 in percentage cuts as follows:

(a) Those with incomes (after deductions and exemptions) which do not exceed $1,000 would receive a 30 per cent reduction in their tax.

30 to 20 Per Cent

(b) Those with incomes between $1,000 and $1,500 would receive reductions ranging from 30 to 20 per cent.

(c) Those with incomes between $1,500 and $4,000 would receive a 20 per cent reduction.

(d) Those with incomes (after deductions and exemptions) above $4,000 would receive a 20 per cent reduction in the tax on the first $4,000 and 10 per cent in the tax on the remainder of their income.

Aged Exemption Boosted

4. Give additional personal exemption for persons 65 or older, bringing their total personal exemptions to $1,200.

5. Increase the present extra $500 exemption for the blind to $600. Making the total exemption $1,200. Blind persons 65 and older would have personal exemptions of $1,800.

Estate Taxes Split

6. Extend to all states the splitting principle in payment of estate and gift taxes.

The tax cuts would be effective on income for 1948. The bill provides for a new schedule of withholding taxes after the bill becomes law. Those who have overpaid under the present schedule would get refunds.

Richfield Boy Nearly Loses Life in Blaze

RICHFIELD, Feb. 2—After inadvertently starting a fire in a farm shed Sunday, Gene Prior, 11, nearly lost his life trying to put it out.

The boy, at home alone, had been practicing basketball in the barn on his father's farm. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prior, were near Heletrih for a rabbit drive. Tiring of tossing the basketball around, Gene lit a few matches and tossed them out of the window just to watch their flaming, shoking descent. The wind caught one of the matches and blew it onto the straw roof of a shed which adjoined the barn.

Gene leaped from the window of the barn to the straw shed roof and was trying to stomp out the blaze when neighbors saw his plight and came to his rescue.

A bucket brigade was formed and although the fire destroyed the shed, the barn was saved with little damage. Several purebred calves were rescued from the burning shed.

Those who formed the bucket brigade were John Base, Veri Dickmon, Daniel Farnsworth, Thomas Kodesh, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stubbs and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Prockter.

Woman Driver Injured in Car Crash Sunday

Mrs. Sylvia Cunningham, 588 Adams street, was the only person injured in a series of automobile accidents in the city over the weekend, city police reported Monday.

Mrs. Cunningham, who was injured in a crash as she was driving home from work about 6:40 a. m. Sunday was taken to Twin Falls county hospital. She was released about 2:30 p. m. Sunday. She was accompanied by her father-in-law, Lee Cunningham. Her car collided with a car driven by Jack D. Lewin, Thiel, at the intersection of Second avenue and Fourth street west.

Intersection Crash

About 1:50 p. m. Sunday cars driven by John H. Austin, Hansen, and E. T. Knight, 1515 Kimberly road, collided at the intersection of Third avenue and Shoshone street east. Police reported witnesses in the Knight car said Knight halted at the stop sign at the intersection before the collision.

Slight damage was reported in an accident which occurred about 4 p.m. Sunday on Morningside drive. The cars involved were driven by Ben W. Bailey and Hezy Orchard, both of Morningside drive. Both men were accompanied by their wives.

Slows Down, Hit

About 5:45 p. m. Saturday a car driven by a Twin Falls man was struck by a California auto after he slowed down to permit a group to push a Kamiza car across U. S. highway 30 near the Sunset Park driveway. Marian F. Barnett, 226 Washington street north, was slowing down when his car was struck in the rear by the car driven by Fred E. Ward, Needles, Calif. The Ward car's front end was damaged. Although Barnett's car was hurled forward it did not strike the standard car which was being pushed across

Basin Snow Depth Is Only 31 Inches

February snow depth in Shoshone basin is at one of the lowest points in recent years with an average of only 31 inches measured at 14 stations, Lewis Clark, forest ranger, reported Monday.

The 1948 measurement is compared with 40 inches in 1947 and 59 inches in 1946. Water content of the snow was measured at only 8.29 inches as compared with 9.5 inches in 1947 and 19.3 inches in 1946.

Boisean Sentenced For Bank Stickup

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (UP)—Marion Stevenson, 28, Boise, Ida., was sentenced to 10 years in a federal penitentiary and fined $1,000 today after a trial which took less time than his attempted holdup of the huge First National bank.

His hearing lasted less than three minutes, and sentence was imposed nine days after he tried to rob the bank.

Pair Hurt in Sunday Crash

Two residents of Twin Falls are in the Twin Falls county hospital with injuries sustained in an automobile accident two miles north of the rim-to-rim bridge at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Alma Morrison, 38, and her son, Robert Morrison, both of 347 Ash street, are in the hospital and E. F. Morrison, 42, driver of the car, is recovering from a back injury at his home. Mrs. Morrison, who sustained a skull fracture and a fractured rib is reported in "good" condition. The boy, who received a minor fracture of the spine, will be released from the hospital in a few days, his attending physician said.

Sheriff Galen Hall, Jerome, said he believed lights from an approaching vehicle blinded Morrison. The automobile overturned in the ditch.

Both Morrison and his son are employes of the Twin Falls plant of the Amalgamated Sugar company.

High Court Fails to Consider Oklahoma Negro's School Plea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP) — The supreme court did not act today on the request of Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, Negro student, for an order requiring her immediate admission to the University of Oklahoma law school.

Attorneys for Mrs. Fisher told the court such an order was necessary if she was to have the benefit of a Jan. 12 supreme court ruling. In that ruling the court said Oklahoma must provide immediate law school facilities for Mrs. Fisher. The justices said they must be equal to those provided for white persons.

Oklahoma set up a separate Negro law school after the Jan. 12 ruling, but Mrs. Fisher has not asked for admission. Instead, her attorneys petitioned the court that Oklahoma be compelled to admit her to the all-white university law school.

The court ordinarily acts on such requests on Mondays. It may act at its session next Monday. But it also could take some step before that time.

Among other actions in a busy day, the court:

Decided unanimously that a Florida war veteran is entitled to redeem land sold for taxes while he was in the navy. Justice Douglas read the opinion.

Agreed to rule on whether a municipality may ban the use of sound trucks. An ordinance of Lockport, N. Y., was contested by Samuel Saia, a member of the Jehovah Witness sect.

Happy Warrior—Also Dazed

Before leaving Hollywood by air for Vancouver, B. C., Pfc. Hugh M. Kenny received a goodbye kiss from Actress Marlene Dietrich, pictured above. Today he arrived in Seattle with lipstick marks just as they had been left by Miss Dietrich. Grounded by the weather, the glib, red-haired GI from the Emerald Isle got to discussing the thrill of movie kisses with Stephanie Seicho, an airlines senior passenger agent. This led to that, the AP reported today, and it wasn't long before Miss Seicho met the implied challenge, Seattle-style. Kenny's only answer to requests for a comparison was a slightly dazed smile. Nehru Stakes Regime On Peace Restoration

NEW DELHI, Feb. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru staked the survival of his government today on the issue of restoring peace, for which Mohandas K. Gandhi was killed.

In swift implementation of Nehru's stand, the home ministry issued a communique abolishing private armies and "any organization preaching violence or communal hatred."

Gandhi's ashes were prepared for committal to the Ganges, a river his Hindu followers consider sacred. His body was cremated on a huge sandal-wood pyre by the waters of the Jammu river yesterday after his youngest son, by Hindu rite, had lit the fire.

Crowds in Bombay, angered by Gandhi's death, tried to burn the house of a member of the militant Rashtrashlin (greater Hindu organization.) They attempted to stop traffic and close shops. They kept all but a few workers from their jobs.

Communique Related

The communique from the home ministry said:

"There is no place today in India for any organization preaching violence or communal hatred. No such organization therefore will be tolerated. No private armies will be permitted."

Home Minister Sardar Vallabhai Patel said he, Nehru and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the education minister, all had been marked for assassination because they advocated peace with the Moslems, as did Gandhi. The gang accused of plotting the deaths was busted.

Small Border Riots

The home ministry said India and the princely state of Hyderabad, ruled by Moslems, had agreed to work in close harmony to settle problems which were assuming serious proportions. Small border riots had broken out.

The greatest manhunt in Indian history is on. Government forces are seeking motives behind the assassination and trying to trace the conspiracy to its roots. Persons suspected of troublemaking are being arrested.

A mass meeting which police said attracted 500,000 persons heard Nehru and Patel call on Indians to cease trying to take the law into their own hands.

Nehru did not single out any group with private armies. Some organizations opposed to the dominant Congress party have been training youth groups and other elements into units. These sometimes have been called private armies, and some have had illegal arms.

10-Point 'Civil Rights' Plans Given Solons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (UP)—President Truman today sent congress a strongly-worded, 10-point civil rights program in which he called for a federal anti-lynching law, abolition of the poll tax, and establishment of a permanent fair employment practices commission.

The President's program was outlined in a lengthy (about 4,000 words) message to the house and senate.

Recommendations Followed

His 10-point program followed closely recommendations contained in a report made to him late last year by a presidential commission on civil rights.

The President recommended that congress at this session enact legislation to:

1. Set up a permanent commission on civil rights, a joint congressional committee on civil rights, and a civil rights division in the department of justice.

2. Strengthen existing civil rights laws.

3. Provide federal protection against lynching.

"Protect Vote Right"

4. Protect "more adequately the right to vote."

5. Establish a fair employment practice commission "to prevent unfair discrimination in employment."

6. Prohibit discrimination in interstate transportation facilities.

7. Provide home-rule and suffrage in presidential elections for the residents of the District of Columbia.

8. Provide statehood for Hawaii and Alaska, plus "a greater measure of self-government for island possessions."

9. Equalize the opportunities for residents of this country to become naturalized citizens.

10. Settle the evacuation claims of Japanese-Americans.

American's Trial Set for "Spying"

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 2 (AP)—Elizabeth Proizel-Pallos, American citizen of Pittsburgh, will go on trial tomorrow charged with espionage.

Miss Proizel-Pallos, an American of Hungarian parentage, was a secretary in the Associated Press bureau at Budapest for three months. She was arrested last Oct. 27. Soon afterwards, the Hungarian government expelled Jack Guinn, AP correspondent.

The indictment said the "accused were in connection with U. S. Army Captain McClemens, an American journalist Jack Guinn and a member of the civil information corps." (Guinn, when expelled, said his only activities in Hungary were those necessary to carry out his duties as a news man.)

U. S. Denounces Russian Charges on Iran Aims as "False" and "Distortions"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—A state department official denounced as "false" and "distortions" today Russian charges that the United States is seeking to make Iran an American "strategic base."

He denied in detail charges which the Moscow newspaper Pravda said Russia had made in a note to the Iranian government. A few hours earlier, the United States formally rejected as "without foundation" a Soviet protest that visits of American warships to Italian ports were violation of the new Italian treaty.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott told reporters the United States has in Iran two missions including 26 officers. He said these are training the Iranian gendarmes force and advising the Iranian army strictly in accord with published agreements.

He said the United States also has given Iran a $25,000,000 credit to buy surplus war material, but Iran is proposing to take only $10,000,000 of this. This is the extent of the American official help to Russia's oil-rich southern neighbor, he added.

These charges were only two of four that Moscow has leveled at the United States within two weeks.

The Moscow radio reported a complaint that American bombers have flown too low over Russian shipping lanes in Japanese waters. A protest was given the state department on Jan. 21 that plans to reopen the American-built Mellaha in Libya would violate the Italian treaty. It is expected to be rejected.

Relates Charges

McDermott took up one by one the charges which Pravda said had been laid before the Iranian government.

He said it is "not true" that the United States is reorganizing the Iranian army along a U. S. pattern; that it is reorganizing Iran's war plants to produce American-type arms, or that it has required the building of a "huge airport" in Kuma or anywhere else in Iran.

He said there is nothing to the charge that Americans built underground fuel storage in southern Iran. He termed "false" charges that the United States is helping Iran fortify its frontier with Russia or is mapping the frontier area.

TWA Owns Share

Trans-World Airlines, he said, owns a "small interest" in the Iranian Air company in Iran. He added it is not known what assistance this line is getting from American civilians.

McDermott explained the U. S. mission training the gendarmes is headed by Brig.-Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf and includes four lieutenant colonels, three majors, four master sergeants and two other non-commissioned officers. The military mission advising the Iranian army includes 18 officers and eight non-coms and is headed by Maj.-Gen. Robert W. Grow, he said.

Agreement on File

McDermott noted that the agreement under which the mission was dispatched to Tehran is filed with the United Nations and specifically bars the Americans from advising on "tactical and strategic plans or operations against a foreign enemy."

The United States rejected outright the Soviet protest over visits of our warships to Italy.

A state department note said the Italian government granted advance permission for each such visit. It said the calls were "in strict accord with the comity of nations."

Action Customary

"It is customary for sovereign states to grant the privileges of visits to naval vessels and personnel of friendly foreign powers," the note added.

Russia charged in a note delivered Wednesday by Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin that the presence of American warships in Italian ports violated the new peace treaty with Italy which required withdrawal of all allied armed forces by last Dec. 15.

The state department delayed a reply to an earlier Moscow protest that restored Italian control of air field at Mellaha in Italy's former north African colony of Libya. Russia in a note delivered Jan. 21 charged this likewise violated the Italian treaty.

SKIER FOUND DEAD

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore., Feb. 2 (AP)—A 22-year-old Portlander, who lost his way on Mount Hood yesterday on his first skiing attempt, was found dead today by a searching party.

Rifle Accident Takes Life of Man at Rupert

RUPERT, Feb. 2—No inquest will be held in the death of Lester W. Weaver, 54, who was found dead from a gunshot wound Sunday afternoon, Minidoka county officials said Monday.

Weaver was found on the banks of Snake river about a mile south of the Rupert-Declo bridge by Cecil Napier who, with Roy Blane, was fishing along the river. He had been dead about an hour when found, sheriff's deputies said. Weaver, according to Deputy Sheriff Floyd Stewart, had been shot with his own .30-30 rifle which was found nearby.

Accidental

Death was accidental, Stewart, who investigated the mishap, said. Weaver apparently slipped and fell, he said, causing the gun to discharge. The bullet entered his left side. The body had slid from the top of the bank eight or 10 feet to the edge of the river, Stewart said.

When Weaver left home Sunday he informed his wife he was going fishing. His fishing equipment was found in his automobile a few yards away from his body.

39 Year Resident

Mr. Weaver was born June 29, 1893, at Dexter, Kans. He came to Rupert approximately 30 years ago and married Evelyn Redford Dec. 12, 1925. He was a veteran of World war I and a member of the VFW.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Robert Carlson, Rupert; three brothers, Fred Weaver, Okmulgee, Okla.; Martin Weaver, Caldwell; Long Weaver, Pleasant View, Colo.; and four sisters, Mrs. Thurza Akins and Mrs. Amy Foster, both Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Essie Johnston, Eugene, Ore.; Mrs. Melissa Nichols, Arkansas City, Kans.

Funeral arrangements are pending. The body is at the Goodman mortuary.

Robins Eliminates Self From 1952's Pushes in Politics

BOISE, Feb. 2 (UP)—Gov. C. A. Robins has eliminated himself from the Idaho political arena in 1952.

The governor authorized release of a statement made at an off the record talk to Idaho publishers at a stag dinner in Boise Saturday night, in which he said he would not be a candidate for the Republican U. S. senatorial nomination in 1950. Robins has three more years to serve as governor.

Under Idaho's four-year tenure of office law, a governor cannot succeed himself.

"I have no desire to go to Washington," Robins told the editors. "I want to go home. If I survive the three years ahead of me, I'll be glad to go back and settle down again on the shadowy St. Joe."

The St. Jo river runs by St. Maries, Robins' home town.

The stag dinner was arranged by the Boise Ad club for members of the Idaho State Editorial association, which concluded its annual convention Saturday.

Almost 2 Billions School Aid Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—President Truman's commission on higher education wants $1,815,000,000 in federal aid for colleges in the next five years.

But a recommendation that the government money go only to publicly supported institutions brought a vigorous dissent from two Catholic members of the commission.

The majority report said that any school accepting public funds should also accept "the right of the people as a whole to exercise review and control of the educational policies and procedures of that institution."

RATION SET UP URGED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP) — The General Federation of Women's Clubs urged today that congress give the government power to ration meat in case there is a "serious shortage."

Spring Must Be Near

Snow Pelts Groundhog On His "Forecast Day"

Pappy Groundhog opened one sleepy eye. There was no glare, so he opened the other, yawned, stretched, smacked his lips, swallowed and allowed as how his "day" had come around.

Just as he emerged from his bed, he was struck with a small snow pellet. Dodging in disbelief, Pappy took a quick look around, saw no shadows. He yapped for his young 'uns to come on out, an early spring was in store.

As he was exhorting his youngsters to awaken, the snow pellets gathered strength and began coming down faster—in fact the ground was soon white.

Never having run into such a predicament in all his years of Feb. 2 forecasting on "Groundhog day," Pappy scratched his puzzled brow, pondered, then decided to stick by his predictions:

"Spring must be near—after all, there aren't any shadows. And this snow won't last long now.

Neither has winter, the weather editor thought as he walked away, scratching his own puzzled brow.

Challenge

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace says he doesn't believe American communists seek to use force to overthrow the United States government.

He also challenged President Truman, "and other candidates for public office," to refuse support of groups advocating restrictions of civil rights or control of the nation by violence.

Wallace repeatedly emphasized these points yesterday in opening his third-party presidential campaign in Ohio.

A standing crowd of 2,500 heard the talk and reportedly contributed $26,000 in sums ranging from nickels and dimes to $5,000.

Grain Curbs Halt Has Small Effect On Big Distillers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 2 (AP)—Louisville Distillers today said expiration of federal control over whisky making would have little effect on production in this area. The controls expired Saturday.

Spokesmen for the industry said distillers would comply with President Truman's request to limit use of grain.

The President asked the industry to use no more grain each month than the amount allotted during January under the government's grain saving program. That amount was 2,500,000 bushels.

Vice-Pres. H. Fred Willkie of Joseph E. Seagram and Sons said he did not expect an increase in production, since distillers had indicated willingness to comply with the President's request.

James J. Dunn, resident manager for National Distillers Products corporation, said production figures this month probably would remain about the same as those of January. He added that "it may increase later." He said local distillers probably would meet this week and determine a voluntary allocation of grain here.

Solons Ready $800,000,000 Slash for Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Congress appears to be getting ready today to chop an $800,000,000 chunk off the starting cost of the Marshall plan. A fight to cut even deeper is possible.

Chairman Bridges R., N. H., of the senate appropriations committee said administration figures have convinced him there is no need to appropriate the full $6,800,000,000 asked by President Truman. That is the amount sought to operate the European recovery program for the first 15 months beginning April 1.

Testimony Cited

Bridges cited testimony by state department officials before the senate foreign relations committee last week that about $800,000,000 of the total would go for goods which won't be shipped to Europe until after July 1, 1949.

"We might consider giving them some contract authority," Bridges told a reporter, "but I don't see any reason for appropriating that money now if the goods aren't going to be shipped until 17 months from now."

Bridges' View Shared

There were indications that Bridges' view is shared by some Republican members of the house appropriations committee, where the cutting axe will fall first.

Still other members of congress have made it clear they want much deeper economy.

1 Dead, 22 Hurt In Rail Collision

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 2 (UP)—Wrecking crews cleaned up the wreckage today of a collision in which the Rock Island railroad's "Rocky Mountain Rocket" ploughed into the rear of a freight train last night, killing one person and injuring 22 others.

The streamliner, en route from Chicago to Denver, hit the freight as the latter backed into a siding to get out of the fast train's way.

Clifford E. Hull, 62, Silvis, Ill., conductor on the freight, was killed. He was standing in the caboose when the diesel engine of the streamliner smashed it like a match box.

Atom Included in Italy, U. S. Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (UP)—The United States and Italy today signed an atomic-age treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation which leaves each country free to take any action it wishes in the field of atomic energy.

It was the first time in diplomatic history that such a treaty contained a section of atomic energy.

The treaty was signed in Rome by U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn and Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza.

MacArthur Edict on Newsmen Flayed by CBS Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (UP)—William Costello, Columbia Broadcasting system correspondent in Tokyo, charged today Gen. Douglas MacArthur considers newsmen who are assigned to cover the whole far east "unwelcome in Japan."

Costello's charge was based on a new directive covering the movement of correspondents based in Tokyo issued by MacArthur's press officer, Frayne Baker.

"In it," Costello charged, "MacArthur says categorically: Japan is unsuitable for use as a press base for all of Oriental Asia. He maintains he cannot assume responsibility for correspondents traveling in other parts of the far east, although no reporter has ever asked for more than permission to re-enter Japan after trips elsewhere."

Costello challenged MacArthur's contention that the housing shortage in Tokyo made it impossible to provide housing facilities for the families of correspondents temporarily absent from Japan.

"The fact is," Costello said, "there will be 13,250 allied housing units here by spring and reporters occupy 19 of them."

Costello said that "the most disturbing sentence in MacArthur's entire official statement is that the United States should not permit correspondents to enter foreign areas without special consideration of each case."

Election on School Merger in Jerome Slated for Feb. 20

JEROME, Feb. 2—Having received no word from the state as to what is to be done with the disputed 11-J school district, Jerome county commissioners have scheduled a school reorganization election for Feb. 20.

The disputed district is claimed by both Jerome and Minidoka counties. Although located within the boundaries of Jerome, county, it has been administered by Minidoka county for several years.

Jerome county included the district in its plans and set an election for last month. Minidoka county officials protested, however, and the state called off the proposed election.

Meanwhile, Minidoka county has scheduled an election for Feb. 21 but has not included the 11-J district in its plans.

Bricker Seen As Darkhorse In GOP Push

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Senator Bricker of Ohio moved back into a Republican darkhorse role today.

Reports are that if backers of Senator Taft fail to win the GOP presidential nomination for their man, Bricker will be their second choice.

As the vice presidential nominee in 1944, Bricker has a wide acquaintance with party members. And if a recent demonstration for him at the GOP national committee meeting here means anything, he is popular with organization Republicans who have a loud voice in national conventions.

Has Stepped Aside

Bricker has stepped aside this year in favor of Taft, just as Taft got out of his Ohio colleague's way in 1944. In addition, Bricker has made plans to campaign actively for Taft.

Thus his friends say he remains a darkhorse who will permit himself to be trotted out on the track only if an expected convention tieup between Taft and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York can't be broken to Taft's advantage.

Both Stand Firm

That possibility may arise because neither Taft nor Dewey is expected to give in to the other. There is doubt where the Dewey forces would go in that event but most politicians do not think Dewey would back Bricker.

Dewey's first choice for a running mate four years ago was Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Warren turned down the Dewey offer then and is not considered likely to get the New York governor's support for top place on the ticket this year.

Orphans Get Prize Idaho Potatoes

When the United Fruit and Vegetable convention ended in San Francisco, some 1,500 orphans at four San Francisco orphanages received the prize Idaho potatoes and onions arranged in an exhibit by Joe Marshall, Twin Falls. Shown above sacking the giant tubers are Marshall and two orphans, Sonny and Darlene, from the Edgewood orphanage. Sonny doesn't appear to be too happy over the gift, but he probably was on the KP crew assigned to peeling potatoes. (Staff engraving)

Prize Spuds From Display Go To San Francisco Orphanages

Delegates to the United Fruit and Vegetable convention in San Francisco viewed displays of produce valued at several thousand dollars, but when the convention closed, the prize produce, including giant Idaho potatoes and onions, was given to four orphanages in the San Francisco area.

Although delegates to the convention went wild over French-fried Idaho spuds and begged "Idaho Potato King" Joe Marshall, Twin Falls, for "samples" to show unbelieving friends, the Idaho exhibit of potatoes and onions was kept intact throughout the five days of the convention. All of the spuds exhibited at the convention were grown in Twin Falls county, with some of them coming from Marshall's own cellars. The onions were grown in the Wilder district.

When the convention closed, appreciative orphans swarmed through the display building, helping to sack and transport the produce to orphanages. Some 1,500 orphans in four institutions will benefit from the donations.

From the Idaho exhibit, the orphans obtained 6,500 pounds of prize Idaho potatoes and 600 pounds of onions. Institutions dividing the potatoes were the Edgewood orphanage, juvenile court, Finehurt orphanage and Mt. St. Joseph's orphanage.

Delegates to the fruit and vegetable convention make it a policy to donate produce used in exhibits to orphanages or similar institutions at the end of the convention. A feature story, including pictures of Joe Marshall and orphans, was published in the San Francisco Examiner when produce was donated this year. When the convention was last held in Chicago, similar stories and pictures were printed in Chicago newspapers.

Marshall is a charter member of the Idaho advertising commission.

Young Turkish Woman to Talk For Town Hall Here Thursday

* * * *

Members of the Twin Falls Town Hall association will be offered a unique experience Thursday evening when they will hear Ismet Sanli, an attractive young Turkish woman, who is a recognized authority on conditions in her country and the middle east.

As a result of her visit to Turkey during the summer of 1947, when she conferred with the leaders of Turkey and other Moslem nations, Miss Sanli is qualified to bring a capsule of information of present-day attitudes toward the United States that cannot be secured through any other source.

U.N. Delegate

Miss Sanli has been a delegate to the United Nations conference and the San Francisco conference. She also represented Turkey at the international air conference in Chicago. For several years, she has been United States journalist and correspondent for outstanding Turkish newspapers.

Modern Turkey, which stands at the crossroads of the east and west, will be interpreted by Miss Sanli. Because the fabulous resources of the middle east pose a nettlesome international problem, Miss Sanli will show the importance of maintaining world peace through the right understanding between the people of the various nations in cooperation with world governments.

Publisher's Daughter

Daughter of a prominent newspaper publisher in Turkey, Miss Sanli received her early schooling in her native land and in France. Later she came to the United States to study at the University of California and at Columbia university where she majored in political science.

The Town Pall program will begin promptly at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Twin Falls high school auditorium.

POPULARITY AND POLITICIANS

Public opinion polls don't elect Presidents or nominate the candidates. But they forecast the result of the last two elections with remarkable accuracy, and so have become political barometers that cannot wisely be ignored.

It was surprising, then, that Republican party leaders paid so little attention to General Eisenhower before he took himself out of the running. According to the polls, the general could have beaten Mr. Truman about as easily as the polls show that Mr. Truman could beat Senator Taft. The same polls show Governor Dewey a stronger contender than Mr. Taft, but slightly less than an even-money bet, at present, to unseat the incumbent.

We don't say that party leaders could have persuaded General Eisenhower to seek the nomination, or that their coolness had anything to do with his decision not to seek it. Still it seems evident that Republican organization leaders, wanting desperately to elect a President after 16 years out of power, looked with disfavor on their strongest potential candidate.

It is right and proper that there should be brisk competition for the GOP nomination. It is natural that many organization workers are loyal to the candidates whom they know and admire. But it is hard to understand how virtually all the party potentates could ignore this popular enthusiasm that was clearly genuine and spontaneous.

Some of the possible reasons for their coolness are these:

The politicians didn't know the general very well. They didn't know his specific position on many important issues. They weren't even sure he was a Republican, or wanted to be one. And apparently they didn't ask. Some of them probably were afraid of a military man as a candidate. Others probably thought they could win with almost anyone, and so preferred that that anyone should be a predictable, amenable, professional politician.

Maybe some remembered their difficulties with another "people's choice," Wendell Willkie, in 1940. Mr. Willkie had some amateur habits that distressed the politicians. He was given to expressing opinions without consulting the party leadership. He didn't oppose his opponent in everything, right down the line. He didn't share the politicians' reverence for the virtues of compromise and expediency.

So, in 1944, Mr. Willkie was in the position of having an excellent chance to be elected President, but no chance to be nominated. Perhaps General Eisenhower would have found himself in a similar position this year.

At any rate, the general's statement declining the nomination, "under the remote circumstances that it were tendered me," was thoughtful and obviously sincere. It leaves a great many people disappointed. Not only did he refuse the nomination, but his refusal reflected a wisdom and high-mindedness which all must surely regret to see removed from our national life, whether or not they would have supported the general for President.

General Eisenhower has promised to keep himself "in instant readiness to respond to any call by the government to military duty." It is to be hoped that, after his retirement, his wise counsel on non-military matters may also be available to the leaders of the nation for which he has already done so much.

THE SAME OLD TRIPE

Ira H. Masters, former secretary of state, is still running true to his customary form as a politician.

He has now taken to task those Democratic leaders who have voiced open criticism of Sen. Glen Taylor. Those singled out particularly are Arnold Williams of St. Anthony, former governor, and F. M. Bistline of Pocatello, national committeeman, for their criticism of the senior senator's stand against President Truman's bi-partisan foreign policy.

Judging from the tone of his attack on Bistline and Williams, Masters was not chiefly concerned with what effect Taylor's views might have on the country's welfare. Instead he pointed out that "such tactics are not conducive to party harmony."

Good old party harmony! These old political hacks just can't get over putting politics above everything else. What if Senator Taylor is siding in with Russia, even to the extent of getting at odds with the national Democratic administration? Should the Idaho Democrats criticize Taylor for that in the belief that he is not working for the best interests of our country? Or should they follow Mr. Master's theory that "what we need most in Idaho is party unity"?

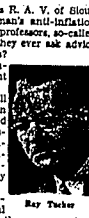
Our hats are off to those Idaho Democrats who repudiated Taylor and his third party policies. They are at least big enough to take inventory of their own ranks, to put their country above "party harmony" when it becomes necessary to make such a choice.

Let the Democrats—and the Republicans, also—clean house on those within their party who are making a mockery of everything we are trying to hold dear as Americans.

We've long since been fed up with all the tripe that has been forced upon us by both parties in their zeal to maintain "political harmony" above everything else.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—"I note," writes R. A. V. of Sioux Falls, S. D., "that President Truman's anti-inflation plans have been framed by college professors, so-called book economists and lawyers. Do they ever ask advice from dirt farmers and cattle raisers? What do they think about rationing, price-fixing and government controls generally?"



Ray Tucker

Answer: I cannot speak for all farmers, but quite a few have spoken out forcibly against the proposed program in letters to their congressmen. The majority seem to be agnostic under present conditions—conditions which, in their opinion, can not be changed for the better by mere legislative action.

Few urban people, it seems, understand the problem of the original producer of meat, as explained in these communications. They point out that there is a definite relationship between the price which they receive for corn and for the hogs raised on that feed. It takes about 10 bushels of corn to produce 100 pounds of pork.

• • •

PERCENTAGE—Thus, if the farmer can get $3 a bushel for his corn as such, and if hogs are selling for only $20 for a hundred pounds, there is no percentage in producing porkers. The present equation has approximately that relationship.

If the price of corn is low at harvest time, the farmer can hold it until it goes up. But he must sell his hogs when they are ready for market, regardless of the current price, thereby losing money if he could have gotten more dollars for corn in its original form.

There is also the personal equation. Raising corn alone is far easier on the human system than acting as a nursemaid for hogs. It is no fun, in the dark of a bitter morning or evening, to have to slosh through snow or mud to feed the animals.

Feelings, in the farmer's opinion, will reduce his return from hogs. Therefore, he will hold them off the market as long as possible or shift to the production of corn. Naturally, he doesn't like the President's program, and will probably vote Republican next fall.

• • •

PUBLICATION—"The Taft-Hartley act," notes S. R. A. of Columbus, O., as well as several other readers, "requires the publication of the unions' receipts and payments. Are employers permitted to see these figures and thereby learn whether the unions in their plants or industries are in a weak or strong financial state? If so, that seems unfair to me."

Answer: The law is not clear on this point, although it was apparently the intent of congress that these reports be open to public perusal. Otherwise, they would have no purpose except to satisfy the curiosity of federal officials. There has been talk of clarifying this provision, although with proper safeguards for labor organizations.

Secretary Schwellenbach, however, interprets the statute to mean that the financial statements shall not be open to employers. He bases his ruling on certain statements made during senate debate.

• • •

OPEN—Under this ruling, the documents are open only to bona fide members of a union with respect to their own organization's filing and to members of congress. A CIO member, for instance, could not check up on an AFL outfit, or vice versa.

I am informed that no employer has yet asked for such data. The fact is that most of the international and large local unions make regular financial statements in the same way that corporations do.

• • •

OIL—"Why has Secretary Krug delayed until now to propose a program for the manufacture of petroleum from shale, lignite, coal, etc.? I have read that Hitler got the gas for running the war from this process. What are the prospects of supplementing our dwindling domestic supply of oil?"

Answer: I do not know why Krug waited until this very moment to advance a vast, long-range plan for making the U. S. self-sufficient through production of synthetic petroleum. The general theory at Washington is that he timed it so as to allay growing fears over current shortages. He wanted to show that he was on the job.

Hitler did obtain his gasoline in this way, but expenses were no object in his slave labor state. Thanks to Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, we are now conducting a few experiments with pilot plants in the west.

• • •

COST—They are reported to have cut the production cost, which is the great obstacle to the synthetic process, to about eight cents higher than the present price of gasoline and oil.

Many scientists, however, believe that it will take some years before the method can be perfected commercially, and that, even then, the retail price will be about 40 or 50 cents a gallon. Of course, by that time ordinary petroleum may be selling near that figure. If we have to rely on imports, deeper or tideland wells and increased wages.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

BARUCH'S PROGRAM

Shakespeare observed long ago that "it were easier to tell 20 what were good to be done than to be one of the 20 and follow mine own teaching," which translated into modern parlance means "don't do as I do; do as I say."

Therefore we do not get too excited about Bernard Baruch's excellent program for restoring economic stability to the United States because it is so good there isn't a Chinaman's chance of it being adopted.

Leaving out his dubious proposal for a scheme of alliances with west European countries which is another question entirely, the domestic program makes sense. It calls for sacrifice of something by everybody. Prices of farm products would be cut back part way in return for a government guarantee to farmers against further slumps for three years. There would be an end to wage and price hikes and there would be no tax reductions.

Thus everyone is given something to howl about and will howl aplenty if congress shows any sign of enacting the Baruch ideas into legislation. Congress knows this and will make no such move. It is not good politics in this country to act for our future benefit at the cost of our immediate profit. This is why the boom will take its course and later we'll all cry "why didn't we do something to prevent this?" when disaster comes.

Human nature being the way it is there seems no remedy. We so seldom learn anything from past mistakes. Whenever we start doing so the millenium will approach with swift strides.—Nampa Free Press.

ON THE DOLLAR SIDE

Annual expenditures of sportsmen in the United States are estimated at $4,000,000,000. Arthur Carhart, writing in Sports Afield, says this sum is greater by one billion dollars than the total retail sales at service stations, one billion dollars more than all the retail drug store sales, twice the national liquor bill, and four times as much as the retail jewelry sales.

"The amount sportsmen spend on fishing and hunting is approximately 10 times that spent on all spectacular sports. The annual dog bill alone is estimated to be equal to what the public blows in while attending football, basketball, baseball, boxing and horse racing.

The national average is set at $125 per sportsman. On the basis of 200,000 licenses, that means $25,000,000 in Idaho business. Even if the Idaho average is only half the national rate, fishing and hunting brings in more than $10,000,000 in Gem state business every year.

"Eight per cent of the sportsman's dollar," Carhart writes, "is spent for ammunition. Nine per cent goes for firearms and five per cent for fishing tackle. These prime necessities account for only 22 per cent of every dollar spent. Transportation to fishing and hunting areas amounts to 17 per cent. Meals and lodging are 11 per cent. The balance of 50 per cent goes for boats, clothing, club dues, guide services, dogs, and all the miscellaneous plunder a man buys when he is going hunting and fishing."—Idaho Wildlife News.

POT SHOTS

WE EXPLODE A MYTH

Magic Valley residents are going to read a lotta stuff about groundhogs and we'll probably hear much more of same. Risking the ire of all you good constituents, we hereby step 'way out on the end of a verra small branch and declare: It ain't true.

You all know how it goes—if this little critter ventures outdoors on Feb. 2 and sees his shadow, then he's supposed to get scared and he himself back into his domicile. Result: Another six weeks of winter. But if he doesn't see his shadow, he isn't scared, he stays out and winter is over. Ha!

By using dry ice, men can make it rain or snow—except at Sun Valley. (And we hear Sun Valley officials still have high hopes). But no self-respecting groundhog is going to try to influence the weather—particularly when he'd have to get up in the midddle of his winter night to do it. So there!

IN A HURRY

Dear Gent:

If you happen to see a pink-topped little guy dashin' toward you some day, you'd better step aside and let him have the right of way. Yep, that'll be the Wonder Guy, and from what we've seen so far, he isn't going to worry much about obstacles.

Just a worrisome 10 months old now, he generally starts out at a gallop when he makes up his mind to go someplace. And if there happen to be a few chairs in his path, he leaves it up to the chairs to do something about it.

Next thing we expect to see is the Wonder Guy leaping over a stubborn chair which refused to move.

Does An Old Maid have a hunting license? I know the season's open on us bachelors all this year, but don't you think she's overdoing it just a trifle?

Here she's chasing every eligible male in the entire valley. But the other eligible don't seem to mind, judging from the response she's been getting.

By the way, you don't happen to have her address, do you?

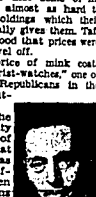
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Talking before the Republican majority of the senate the other day, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio expressed the kind of bland optimism that some of his colleagues find almost as hard to take as the scoldings which their leader occasionally gives them. Taft said he understood that prices were beginning to level off.

Yet the price of mink coats and diamond wrist-watches," one of the anti-Taft Republicans in the back row mutterred.

The split in the senate majority over the issue of inflation and what to do about it has sharpened the differences between the two factions as never before.



Marquis Childs

On the one hand are the stalwarts who follow Taft and Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska. They believe in sitting tight, confident that they can unload the blame for higher and higher prices on the Truman administration.

On the other side are such senators as Ralph Flanders of Vermont, Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut and Irving Ives of New York. They believe that their party, as the majority party in congress, must take responsibility.

• • •

Flanders has introduced a bill providing that all the machinery for meat rationing be set up ready to go into operation if it should prove necessary in the spring. Senators Ives and Baldwin have put in a rent-control bill that would extend controls until June 30, 1949. It would give both tenants and landlords the right of appeal locally and nationally where hardship is claimed.

These Republicans have been increasingly aware of the way inflation is pinching the average American. They know how the cost of food in the average family budget has climbed and climbed until it absorbs nearly half of the income of the lower wage groups. The fact that prices of luxuries may be levelling off, which is doubtful in any event, while prices for necessities continue to rise sounds like very bad news, since it could be the herald of depression.

The difference between the two Republican wings is not confined to details of legislation. It gets down to the basic approach to politics in this election year.

• • •

The Flanders-Ives-Baldwin faction believe in a constructive approach. They think that the American people respond to the constructive rather than to the destructive attack. In this connection the remark attributed to the late Wendell Willkie on the subject of Herbert Hoover is recalled:

"Unfortunately Mr. Hoover allows his thinking to be dominated by Mr. Roosevelt."

This same charge is made today against the Taft-Wherry leadership. Critics in the senate say that they wait to see what the administration decides and then they oppose it. In other words, they have not outgrown the kind of negative opposition which typified the Republican stand all through the new deal era.

Ives and Baldwin have particularly strong feelings on this score. Each in his own state demonstrated what can be done with a constructive approach.

• • •

As Republican leader in the legislature in Albany, Ives shaped a constructive program that won elections for his party. He sponsored and pushed to adoption measures such as New York's fair-employment-practices law.

In Connecticut, Baldwin followed the same tack. In his first campaign for the governorship in 1938, he refrained from exploiting the scandals of the Democratic administration. He talked instead about what his party could do to make Connecticut a better state and he won the election.

Naturally it is not just politics and the chances for '48 that concern these conscientious senators. They are fearful of what a bad deflationary bust could do to the country and the world.

The cost of living is still moving sharply upward. In a preliminary report on the change from November to December of last year, the bureau of labor statistics showed that the cost of living index had moved up more than 1 per cent in a month—which is a drastic change.

The experts who compile the index see nothing to alter the upward trend. They talk of explosive possibilities in certain foods, particularly meat, with the explosion related to crop conditions here and in Europe.

Constructive action by congress might put a period to the spiral. It is such constructive action that the Flanders-Baldwin-Ives wing is urging. They insist it is not enough merely to pile the blame on the other side in an effort to come to power by default.

Electrician Finds Menu With Steaks Offered for 25 Cents

Forrest Steele, an electrician, was sirloin steaks at 25 cents. One local restaurant is selling sirloin steaks today for $1.75.

Cost of the 16 items listed on the menu for breakfast was only 27.66 per cent of what the same 16 items cost today.

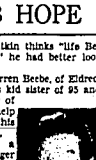
Items listed showed these increases from 1911 to 1948: Ham and eggs increased from 25 to 75 cents, bacon and eggs from 25 to 75 cents, ham omelet from 25 to 65 cents, egg omelet from 25 to 45 cents, plain steak from 20 cents to $1, T-bone steak from 30 cents to $1.50, mutton chops from 25 cents to $1, cooked cereals from 20 to 25 cents, hot cakes with maple syrup and coffee from 15 to 25 cents, waffles and coffee from 15 to 30 cents, (only one waffle served in 1948 order) stewed fruits from five to 25 cents, milk toast from 10 to 25 cents, doughnuts and coffee from 10 to 15 cents and cocoa from five to 10 cents.

Although the price of T-bone steaks was higher than sirloins in 1911, the reverse is true on the 1948 menu.

BOB HOPE

If Walter Pitkin thinks "life Begins at Forty," he had better look again.

Recently Warren Beebe, of Eldred, Ill., invited his kid sister of 95 and his kid brother of 54 down to help him celebrate his 100th birthday.



Bob Hope

They had a special messenger boy come over and sing "Happy Birthday." Naturally, his voice wasn't as good as it used to be when he was tenor with the Pony Express quartet.

And they wanted to make it really lively. They tried to get C. Aubrey Smith to drop in and act as master of ceremonies.

But that family surely has seen a lot of changes take place. In fact, they spent all evening sitting around in a nice warm apartment, reminiscing about that cold winter in Valley Forge.

Beebe's sister wanted to drive down in her car but she ran into a little trouble. The Smithsonian Institution wouldn't give it back.

And Beebe was thinking back to his childhood on the solemn occasion. He said "I can remember what a young upstart I was at 80. I wish I knew then what I know now."

I think it's wonderful to hear of such spirit flitters among people who are way up there in the higher age bracket. But look at the crooner. . . . He's got all that and money too.

Demonstration Council's Meeting Plans Program

"Home, the center and not the circumference of a woman's interest" was the theme adopted by the Home Demonstration council at a meeting Saturday.

Marian Hepworth, state Home Demonstration leader, was present at the meeting and gave suggestions of national and statewide scope for the benefit of the club.

As explained by Miss Hepworth, the state program includes five points. The organization will make an effort to improve rural homes in the realm of social, spiritual and educational obligations. They will study housing and the adoption of equipment to make the home more functional and liveable. They will treat the problem of health, especially as it concerns nutrition, production and preservation of food. Better buying will be encouraged to make the money expended buy its full value in food stuffs and household articles. They will attempt an understanding of the situations in our community, in the state, the nation and the world.

This program, that of the Association of Women of the World, will be the guide for all future activities of the council.

Mrs. Adolph Machacek, Buhl, was chairman for the meeting. Florence Schultz and Mrs. J. M. Pierce served tea after the program.

The Home Demonstration council consists of representatives from all demonstration clubs and other groups with like interests in Twin Falls county.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Unless something is done prices are bound to go still higher. It's up to the people who buy to shop carefully. We say prices are high, but all prices are not equally high. By careful shopping, it's possible to buy without paying too much."

That's the president and general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods association speaking. But if he is aiming his advice at housewives, he isn't telling them a thing.

For a long, long time they have been meeting the challenge of inflation by careful shopping.

It's time-consuming and it's tiring, but it's a necessary thing today, unless a woman has unlimited money to spend.

Judging by the prevalence of advertised sales all over the country, and the big mark-downs being made to entice customers to buy, such shopping is having results.

Women didn't fall for the "new look" to the extent that was expected. They didn't toss into the discard everything in their wardrobes that the new styles had dated, the way they were told they would have to do. Instead, they only bought a few things with the "new look" for dress-up wear.

Women are naturally careful buyers. They know all the tricks of getting what they want at the lowest possible price. No man can tell them anything about that.

Norway Sweeps Into Winter Olympics Lead

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 2 (AP)—Norway swept in front of Sweden today in unofficial Olympic winter games standings when Sverre Farstad won the 1,500 meter (metric mile) speed skating championship in record-shattering time of two minutes, 17.6 seconds.

The United States, expecting to rally in this event, picked up only one point when Johnny Werket of Minneapolis finished sixth in 2:20.2. Americans were completely out of the picture in the downhill skiing competition, the other main event on the morning program.

In duplicating the victories, teammates Reidar Liaklev and Finn Helgesen scored in the 5,000-meter (3¼ miles) and 500 meter (1/3 mile) tests. Farstad clipped almost two seconds off the Olympic record of 2:19.2 set by Norway's Charles Mathisen in 1936.

Another Norwegian, railway employ Odd Lundberg, also bettered the record of 2:189 to finish behind Ake Seyffarth of Sweden, whose mark-breaking 2:18.1 gave him the runnerup position.

This put Norway temporarily on top of the unofficial standings with 44½ points to Sweden's 39.

Henri Oreiller of France won the second Olympic gold medal of the day when he outclassed the field in the two-mile downhill ski race. His time was two minutes, 55 seconds.

Oreiller's triumph gave France its first championship in the games and its first points in the scoring table, which is reckoned on 10 points for first and 5-4-3-2-1 for the first top finishers.

Austria also scored for the first time when Franz Gabl placed second in the ski race.

Ice hockey, which has been stripped from the official program by the International Olympic committee after a bitter controversy over the rightful U. S. entry, continued its unofficial course.

Sweden won its first game by defeating Austria, 7-1. It was Austria's fourth straight setback.

The day was the chilliest of the four days of winter competition but the sun was brilliant and softening snow handicapped the downhill skiers to some extent.

With sixth place in the downhill ski event still to be determined the nation's stood in this order through the morning events:

Norway 44½, Sweden 39, Switzerland 25, Finland 24, United States 18¼, France 10, Austria 7, Belgium 3, Holland 3, Britain 2, Italy 1, Canada ¼.

The opening phase of the men's figure skating championship heads the fourth day program.

The men will stage the difficult compulsory figures with the more crowd pleasing free skating events not scheduled until Wednesday.

Dick Button of Englewood, N. J., recent winner of the men's world figure skating championship at Prague, is the United States' chief threat for the Olympic crown.

Oreiller finished the race in excellent style, jumping across natural obstacles and demonstrating great skiing skill.

Americans who had been considered strong outsiders did not get up among the best due to falls on the difficult passage halfway down the course.

The same was true of Scandinavians, most of whom took too many risks and lost the gamble by falling.

Jack Reddish of Salt Lake City was the highest finisher for the United States, coming in 26th with a time of 3:12.6.

Here's how other Americans wound up in the field of 125:

Forty-second—Richard Movitz of Salt Lake City, 3:25.4.

Forty-third—Steve Knowlton of Aspen, Colo., 3:26.4.

Forth-fourth — Robert Blatt of Palo Alto, Calif., 3:27.8.

Forty-sixth—Devereaux Jennings of Salt Lake City, 3:28.4.

Forty-seventh—Barney McLean of Denver, Colo., 3:30.2.

GOLDEN GLOVERS READY FOR GONG

Boxers From 5 States Here for Title Bouts

More than 100 boxers from five states (Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon and Utah) today awaited the gong (8 p.m.) that will send them out after 20 championships and for eight of them the right to compete in the "tournament of champions" in Chicago. The big event will be staged Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the Twin Falls high school gym and Thursday night at the Filer high school.

Boxers from more than two dozen clubs in the five states were registering at Twin Falls hotels throughout Saturday night and up until early this morning. This afternoon at the Legion hall, they were busy weighing in and submitting to physical examinations by two physicians.

Nearly every 1947 amateur champion in Montana is among the entrants. From Eugene, Ore., comes a fighter, Gene Martin, who reached the semi-finals in the welterweight division of last year's Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago. From St. Anthony comes a featherweight who was two times champion of Nebraska.

There is an abundance of boxers in every division. A dozen heavyweights, of which there was a shortage in past tournaments, will compete for championships. The welterweight division, as usual, will draw the heaviest entry—some two dozen fighters competing in the 147-pound class.

Louie Denton, Kimberly, former University of Idaho ring star and the outstanding ring official in this area, and Benny Beckstead, once Twin Falls, leading fighter, will be the referees with Willard Tetzner, Herschel Cobb and Bill Nitschke the judges.

Fred Stone, beloved Twin Falls all-around sportsman, will be the timer.

Bruins Play Buhl Tuesday

On the SPORT FRONT With YOSS (The Fudgy One)

Mrs. Henry Tolman, the T-N's very efficient correspondent at Murtaugh, comes up with this story that makes Ye Olde Sport Scrivener's heart glad for the reason that it puts across an idea that the pudgy one has been pounding on for quite some time.

As you have heard, a junior high school tournament was staged at Murtaugh last week and on one of the teams was a boy they call a "problem child."

The school authorities had been having all kinds of trouble with the youngster—he wouldn't go to school regularly and his demeanor when he attended just wasn't what it should have been.

But the school authorities allowed him to play in the tournament. The boy was elated and near the end of the tournament, he approached his superintendent to voluntarily remark:

"You won't have any trouble with me any more. I'm going on to high school because I want to play basketball."

And that's one of the big values of athletics in the schools: They keep a boy in school until he realizes the value of an education.

A gent for whom YOSS has great admiration suggests that some civic organization should create a fund to purchase playground basketballs and erect goals in vacant lots.

That, he said, would alleviate Twin Falls' lack of courts that is playing havoc with the development of basketball talent in this city.

Everett Hustead, Buhl's all-around sport, rolled identical games of 165-165-165 in that city's bowling league the other night. But what the ancient word puddler would like to know is where the gent that told him that only 200 bowlers rolled three games alike in league competition in 1947 got that information. That august body, the American Bowling Congress, keeps no such record and if the old typewriter tormentor had to guess at the number to roll identical games he would say it was much less.

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: There's plenty of sports to hold your interest this week.

Gene Cooper Third In Big Six Scoring

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—Jim Duncan, Boise center, added 16 points the past week to boost his lead in the big six conference scoring race to 42 points over his nearest rival, La Von Satterfield, Pocatello.

Duncan has tallied 42 field goals and 18 free throws in seven conference games for 102 points, an average of 14.6 points per game. Satterfield has scored 60 points in his team's six loop contest to average 10 points a game.

Other leading Big Six scorers (ranked by averages):

Big Six Will See Standings Given Shuffle

By The Associated Press

The southern Idaho Big Six high school basketball conference standings may be shuffled this week as *five league tilts are on tap—high-*lighting maple court activity which will see prepsters in hot and heavy action from one end of the Gem state to the other.

Pocatello will take on a lion's share of the Big Six action in a three-game sweep into southwestern Idaho. The second place Indians, with a 4-2 loop record, will play at Boise on Thursday, Nampa on Friday and Caldwell on Saturday.

Tigers Coming Here

Idaho Falls will travel to Twin Falls on Friday and Boise will entertain Nampa on Saturday to round out the conference slate.

The Caldwell Cougars tightened their grip on the Big Six lead Saturday night by rolling over Idaho Falls for a 38-29 victory. The Tigers thus ended a disastrous road trip which also saw them lose to Boise 44-23 and to Nampa 34-30.

Elsewhere in southwestern Idaho on Saturday night the Boise Braves overcame a 15-point deficit in the final four minutes to edge Weiser 38-37, and Nampa smothered Emmett, 46-27.

Last week was also the Waterloo for a pair of previously undefeated teams. Boise shattered Idaho's undefeated record set by the Rupert Pirates with a 35-34 victory, while Genesee handed Orofino its first loss of the season with a 39-34 win.

Madison Rules High

The hopes of Madison high of Rexburg as king pin in the upper Snake river valley still rode high as the Madisonites swamped St. Anthony, 67-37. The Bobcats, however, may have a rougher time this week with a home game against Rigby Wednesday and another tilt at Sugar City Friday.

Preston continued its unbeaten record against Idaho teams by thumping Blackfoot, 64-20.

Rupert and Buhl, the strong arm men in Idaho's southcentral district, each have a pair of tiffs coming up this week. Rupert will go to Oakley Tuesday for a Big Seven conference game and will entertain Idaho Falls Saturday. Buhl will host Twin Falls Tuesday and Gooding Friday.

Jerome Tourney Opens Tonight: Many Prizes Given at Gooding

A game every hour will be the program as the Jerome Jaycee tournament begins its merry six-night whirl at 6 p.m. today. Opening the big 20-team event will be the Independent Meats of Twin Falls against the Jerome VFW followed by games in this order: Jerome Jaycees vs. Scott's Cafe, Twin Falls; Buhl Hardwares vs. Wendell Lions; Rupert Jean Seeds vs. Eden-Hazelton; Burley Jaycees vs. Wall's Foods, Burley, and Shoshone Redskins vs. Albion Legion.

Although the Jaycee tournament carries off the honors in the number of teams entered, it will have to go far to outstrip the Gooding Lions tournament in prizes presented. The latter tourney, which came to an end Saturday night, presented the following awards:

ST. ANTHONY, Ida., Feb. 2 (UP)—Austin Neely, Teton basin, today appeared to be the man to beat in the annual American dog derby at Ashton Feb. 23 after beating out a field of 11 in the winter carnival dog race here Saturday.

Norman Showalter Is White Stag Ski Victor

Norman Showalter, Twin Falls' fast-developing skier, proved the surprise winner when he beat out a field of 19 skiers in the first annual White Stag tournament of the Magic Mountain ski club Sunday. He had a combined time of 3:51.1 in the two runs of the giant slalom over the 3,500-foot course.

Dick Frederickson, also of the Magic Mountain club, the odds-on favorite, could do no better than third, trailing Glen Kunau, Mount Harrison Ski club, Burley, by one and one-six-tenths seconds in 3:57.6.

However, he had the best time for a single run, 1:52.8.

Other leaders were:

Bob Hoffmaster, Twin Falls, 4:08.

Jack LeClair, Twin Falls, 4:11.3.

Don Cowell, Burley, 4:28.9.

Showalter's name consequently became the first to be engraved on the trophy donated by the Rowles-Mack company, Twin Falls.

More than 600 saw the meet, for which Claude Jones was the forerunner, Jack Smith the starter and Bill Lash the recorder.

North Carolina Golfers Win in Tucson's Open

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 2 (AP)—A pair of North Carolinians who came through in a pinch, Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Mid-Pines, and John Palmer, Baden, are heading eastward today with first and second prize money of the $10,000 Tucson open tucked in their slacks.

After a dismal over-par third round Saturday, Alexander came back yesterday with an eight-under-par 62 to tie the course record for 18 holes and equal the 72-hole mark of 264. He collected $2,000.

Palmer had equalled the 62 record set by Herman Keiser, Akron, O., to get back in a contending position at the start of the final 18-holes two strokes behind pace-setting Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa. He ripped the easy El Rio course apart in the final nine holes to score four birdies, earn a total of 265 and $1,400.

Both the southerners beat Locke, one of the best pressure players in the business, at his own game to force him into a third place tie at 268 with Vic Ghezzi, Kansas City, Kans., and amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O.

Alexander, who had never won a major money, started out the day in a seventh place tie and trailing Locke, Palmer, Ghezzi, Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich., and the former Ryder cup player Jimmy Hines. He finished the first nine with a six-under-par 29, another course record, just as Palmer, playing in front of him, went on a par-busting ramp, to breeze home with 201-64—265.

The easy-going Carolinian drove off the 18th tee just as Locke, then three under par and methodically working towards a first place tie, struck out for the 16th hole.

Alexander's second shot left him 12-feet from the pin of the long 512-yard hole and Locke was blazing from a sand trap and failing short.

The 29-year-old ex-Duke university player had to sink the putt to win or make a birdie to tie. He shot for the eagle, made it, and won the tourney.

American athletes have never won an Olympic event in either skiing or hockey.

SICE to Play Bengal Cagers At Rupert Gym

By The Associated Press

Idaho college teams are in for some strenuous activities this week with College of Idaho taking on the roughest cage chore—a four game conference sweep into Oregon.

The University of Idaho Vandals, losers to Washington State Saturday by one heartbreaking point, will attempt to crawl from the northern division cellar in a two game series against University of Oregon. The Vandals will invade Moscow for Friday and Saturday games.

College of Idaho departed late Sunday for the coast with a league record of twin wins and three losses. The Coyotes, weakened by the loss of Swede Erstrom, speedy guard who left school at the end of the first semester, will open the road junket in a Tuesday night game against Linfield college at McMinnville, Ore. They move to Forest Grove, Ore., Wednesday to meet Pacific University. Portland Friday to play Lewis and Clark college and Salem, Ore., Saturday to meet Willamette university.

Thursday—Eckers Studio (AAU) of Salt Lake City vs. Idaho State college at Pocatello.

Friday and Saturday—Boise Junior college vs. the University of Idaho freshmen at Moscow.

Saturday—Idaho state college vs. Southern Idaho College of Education at Rupert.

Ike's Removal Also 'Invited' M'Arthur Out

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—General Eisenhower in removing himself from the Republican presidential picture extended what many regarded as an invitation to General MacArthur to do the same.

If such was intended, MacArthur failed to rise to the bait. He even may have indicated his availability in a 68th birthday anniversary statement to an interviewer in Tokyo.

The supreme commander of allied forces in Japan said he would stay overseas until his task is completed —unless called away by some "extraordinary occurrence."

No Explanation

MacArthur did not explain what he meant, nor did he make any reference to efforts to get him the Republican presidential nomination. But his supporters took heart as they have from previous MacArthur utterances.

Eisenhower, in saying he could not accept a presidential nomination, said professional soldiers should not seek high political office unless for some obvious or overriding reason.

MacArthur's latest comment about returning home followed by one week announcement of a full slate of 27 MacArthur delegate candidates in the April 6 Wisconsin primary.

Has Competition

Unless he takes himself out as unequivocally as Eisenhower did, MacArthur will find himself contesting with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen in the significant Wisconsin test.

The New Hampshire primary — March 9—is important psychologically as it is the first in the nation. But only eight delegates are at stake. Furthermore, only Dewey and Stassen slates are entered there.

Forces backing Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren of California were silent the past week. But the name of another favorite son—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey—entered the lists. New Jersey Republicans picked seven delegates-at-large pledged to Driscoll for the presidential nomination. They, and 28 district delegates, will run in the spring primary.

North Idaho Unit Seeking 'Leaping Trout' on Plates

SANDPOINT, Feb. 2 (AP)—The anglers now want their say along with winter sports enthusiasts and potato producers when it comes to designing Idaho license plates.

The plates in 1947 sported a soaring skier while the new 1948 plates bear the replica of a hot buttered potato.

And the North Idaho Scenic Land association today put in a bid for a leaping trout as the theme for a future plate.

The association in a letter to the state board of publicity said Idaho's trout are being publicized all over the nation and observed:

"Actually trout are more typical generally of Idaho than the skier which appeared on the plates last year.

Bradley Gets Free Ride

Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff designate, politely posed on a sled with Bill Carpenter, rear, and Carol Van Overberghe at New York's East Side house. But, a moment after this picture was taken, the sled slipped, and zipped down the block, with the general in command. Bill was unseated, but Carol and the general had a half-block free ride.

National Trend for Decreased Income Strikes Bus Firm Here

The general trend for municipal transportation companies across the nation to suffer drastic cutbacks in their net income during 1946 and 1947 has been reflected locally, Ted Davis, president of the Twin Falls Motor Transit company, said Monday.

Doubled operating costs and a drop of one-third in the net revenue of the Twin Falls Motor Transit company resulted in an estimated $10,000 loss to the company during 1947, Davis said.

Cost up, Income Down

Scanning the gloomy picture public transportation companies are facing everywhere in the country, Davis cited specifically the large rise in wage scales, equipment costs, insurance and a corresponding decline in patronage during the past year.

"Here we have lost from 150 to 200 passengers on our daily routes," he said, "and that means the difference between running at a profit or deficit."

Probable Causes

The drop in passenger fares, he continued, was probably caused by the increase in number of automobiles, competition from other transportation means in the city and, in part, to the increase in fare on the buses from 10 to 15 cents effective Dec. 15, 1946.

Recently the company experimented with a supplementary bus route running to the outlying districts of Twin Falls, Davis said. This route was operated from Dec. 1, 1946, until Sept. 1, 1947, and proved unsuccessful, he added.

Campaign Considered

At present the company is considering several public relations projects to better acquaint the people in the city with the bus routes, he said. Among these is the establishment of benches, constructed of wood and aluminum and placarded with the bus routes, at the four bus stops in the downtown shopping districts.

The first bench will be set up in front of Knight's barber shop at 120 Shoshone street east, and if it meets with the approval of the city council, he said the other benches will be installed.

Davis, who has 14 more years left on a 20-year franchise from the city to operate a transit company, said there is one full-time bus and two part-time buses servicing Twin Falls at present.

"One bus makes a regular run of the city, hitting all the major residential districts once every hour," he said, "and the other two are used just during rush periods."

General Decline

Returning to the national picture of public transportation, Davis said a survey in the magazine, Mass Transportation, showed transit companies in major cities throughout the country reporting an increase in expenses of 10.8 per cent, a drop in operating revenue of .16 per cent and a 46.5 drop in net revenue during the past year.

In terms of dollars, this means that transit companies dropped from $207,670,000 in 1946 to $143,100,000 in 1947 in total net revenue collected, he said.

Gold Acts by France Chief Boost Power

PARIS, Feb. 2 (AP)—Premier Robert Schuman may have assured himself another six months in office if his surgery on the French monetary system is successful. That was the opinion today of many members of the national assembly.

Schuman, a popular Republican, became premier during the crucial days of the November riots and strikes. At that time the same assembly sources predicted his middle-of-the-road coalition government would not last two weeks.

But Schuman broke the strikes and then pushed his monetary program through the assembly.

Aide Gains Stature

There is talk now that if Schuman steps down in six months he will turn the premiership over to his finance minister, Rene Mayer, a member of the Radical Socialist (conservative) party. Mayer gained stature by the way he presented the government's monetary program.

The program provided for:

1. Devaluation of the franc from 120 to 214 to the dollar. This step was designed to increase exports and encourage manufacturing.

2. Calling in of all notes of 5,000-franc denomination in an effort to demolish the black market that has been inflating prices.

3. Establishment of a free market for gold, dollars and Portuguese escudos.

Repeating Old Trick

Opening of a free gold market is one of the first steps toward abolishing all rate controls on the franc, just as the country did after the war of 1871 and the first World war.

After the Germans' triumph in 1871 France made a come back in two years. Reparations were paid off so fast Bismarck thought he had been hoodwinked.

In 1918 France let the franc fall where it might. Two years later the country was back on its feet financially.

Boise Moose Bar Wrecked by Fire

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Moose lodge's bar was destroyed and the rest of the building damaged by fire and smoke yesterday. Firemen estimated the damage between $14,000 and $20,000.

Second Assistant Fire Chief Charles Tucker said the fire was believed to have started in the beer-cooling machinery.

Filer FFA Youth Wins Beet Award

FILER, Feb. 2—Warren Hart, a member of the Filer FFA, has been awarded first prize of $100 in the beet growing contest sponsored by the Idaho Beet Growers association. Selection of Hart was made at a meeting of the association in Pocatello.

Henry Johnson, Heyburn FFA member, was awarded second prize of $25. The contest will be carried on again this year and is open to all FFA members in southern Idaho. The contest is judged on the basis of size of enterprise, yield per acre, improved practices used, accuracy and completeness of records and use of by-products.

Afraid to Eat Due to Gassy Upset Stomach

"I was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour, bitter substance rose up from my upset stomach after meals. I got INNER-AID, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise INNER-AID to the sky." This is an actual testimonial and we can verify it.

INNER-AID is the new mixture of 12 Juices from Nature's Herbs. It has relieved many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine. Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food, thus eliminating the poisons that foster stomach trouble. It will cleanse the bowels, clear gas from stomach, enliven liver and remove old bile from the system. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.—Adv.
